It's an iOS app. I want to know if there is any way to call an iOS 5 code only when the iPad is closed. It should work even if the iPad is in standby mode. A: This article on arstechnica gives a quick rundown of ways to do this. There is also a section on app states in iOS5. You probably want to do this when the app is active and not in the background. Red cell phenotyping in 1003 newborns: comparison of the three-tube method with monoclonal antibodies. The three-tube method for red cell phenotyping has been used in a large prospective study of 1003 term infants. This study has shown that this method is an accurate, simple, and quick method of red cell phenotyping in newborns, and it is more accurate than the use of monoclonal antibodies in identifying red cell phenotypes. The relative frequency of red cell phenotypes is similar to that seen in infants and adults. The age at which the red cells were phenotyped does not appear to affect the accuracy of the results.import { NgModule } from '@angular/core'; import { RouterModule } from '@angular/router'; import { FlowModule, ButtonModule, FormDirectiveModule, FocusModule, InputModule, SliderModule, ValueDirectiveModule, } from 'ngx-flow'; import { XFBKButtonDirective } from './xfbk-button.directive'; import { XFBKValueDirective } from './xfbk-value.directive'; import { XFBKButton
